As per usual, I've done a fair amount of editing for presentation purposes. I took the most liberty with with regard to

Here is a clean word version lauren can work from in the morning; it's the same as what's on ann's one drive doc without all the markup.

Sharepoint link is below (I advise reviewing in No Markup). Also a Word version is attached. Only 2.5 pages. I know Steve plans to review tonight so it may (probably will) change – and for the better. Thanks to everyone for all their work on this paper. Talk with you all in the morning.

Hi all,

I hope this works. Here's a link to what I put together for options, along the lines of what we discussed earlier today. It's more detailed than what would easily fit on the cover page, but I could add something brief to the cover page. I thought it would be helpful to have this longer version that explains the various aspects of the options. Edit away as you see fit!
